In such event, the Fund may proceed with compulsory redemption of all Units held by such Unit-holder pursuant to the Rules or allow the said Unit-holder to purchase additional Units in order for the minimum residual holdings requirement to be complied with. A Well-Informed Investor who fails to provide, together with the relevant Application Form for each sub-fund, an assessment in writing of by a credit institution that falls within the scope of the Banking Laws as amended, or by an Investment Firm, or by a UCITS management Fund showing that such investor has the necessary experience and knowledge to be able to evaluate the appropriateness of the investment in the AIF shall not qualify for the above minimum initial subscription.

The units of the Fund shall be freely transferable. Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall be notified of any transfers of units in the Fund and such transfer shall be valid vis-a-vis it after the notice is given, in the form approved by Emergo Wealth Ltd. from time to time.

Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall update the Unit-holders' Register about the transfer by deleting the units transferred from the account of the transferor and entering them in the account of the transferee. Following a request from the transferee, Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall issue a Certification of Participation on its name, in accordance with the provision of the Rules concerning Certificates of Participation.

Pledging of Units

The units of the Fund may be used as collateral to secure a claim. The collateral shall be valid and shall take effect against the Manager of the Fund, from the date it is disclosed to the Manager in writing and, in case the units are admitted to trading in a stock market, on the condition that the necessary procedures regarding the registration of the collateral in the records kept in the context of the operation of the relevant market have been made. Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall record the collateral in the Unit-holders' Register. The satisfaction of the lender is effected by the redemption of the pledged units and the payment of the redemption proceeds to the lender until the redemption of all the pledged units. Where the pledged units of the Fund are not redeemed in total, the lender shall maintain its right on the collateral as to the remaining pledged units, without having to conclude and disclose a new collateral agreement. Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall record in the Unit-holders' Register the elimination of the pledged units. Following a request from the pledgor or Unit-holder, Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall issue a Certificate concerning entry of the pledge in the Unit-holders' Register.

Creation of a Pledge

Under contract law, a pledge of Units shall not be valid unless the contract of pledge is expressed in writing, is signed by the pledgor and the pledgee and is made in the presence of two witnesses each having contractual capacity. The pledge shall not be valid and enforceable unless notice of such pledge, together with a certified copy of the contract of pledge, is given by the pledgee to the Fund and the Fund shall have made a Prospectus of such pledge in the register of Unit-holders against the Units in respect of which the notice has been given and shall have delivered to the pledgee a certificate that a Prospectus of such pledge has been made in the relevant register of the Fund. The unit certificate relating to the pledged Units must be delivered to the pledgee. Therefore, the procedure for the creation of a pledge of Units is as follows:

- written notification of intention to pledge Units;
- consent of the Manager;
- execution of a written contract of pledge signed by the pledgor and the pledgee in the presence of two witnesses each having contractual capacity;
- the holder of the Units delivers to the pledgee the Unit statement relating to the pledged Units;
- notice of such pledge, together with a certified copy of the contract of pledge, is given by the pledgee to the Manager of the Fund.
- the Manager of the Fund makes a Prospectus of such pledge in the register of Unit-holders against the units in respect of which the notice has been given;
- the Manager delivers to the pledgee a certificate that a Prospectus of such pledge has been made in the register.

Enforcement of the Pledge over Units

For as long as Units are pledged, the holder of such units shall not be able to redeem the Units. A request for redemption as regards any of the pledged Units may only be made by the pledgee as described in the paragraph below. In the event that a Unit-holder makes a request for redemption, the Fund will not proceed with the redemption of any of the Units unless the pledge is revoked by the pledgee and such revocation is duly communicated to the Fund. The pledgee shall be able to request the redemption of units, in accordance with the contract of pledge provided reasonable notice has been given to the pledgor. Any redemption request shall be made in accordance with and subject to the rules and procedures applicable to redemptions described in this Prospectus and the Rules of the Fund using a Pledgee Redemption Request Form. The pledgee must send to Emergo Wealth Ltd. a Pledgee Redemption Request Form, indicating that the request for redemption is made by such person as pledgee of the relevant Units, together with a copy of the relevant unit certificate. Emergo Wealth Ltd. shall then confirm that such person is the pledgee of such Units on the basis of the register of the Fund. Should there be no objection to the request for redemption due to restrictions or the Gate, the Fund shall request the delivery of the original unit certificate and shall then proceed with the redemption of the Units. The Minimum Redemption Amount as defined below shall not be applicable for the redemption of pledged Units. The cash payment relating to the redemption shall be paid by the Fund to the pledgee by wire transfer, according to the pledgee's instructions.

Therefore, it is possible that any of them may, in the course of their business, have potential conflicts of interest with the Fund. In such event, any such party will, at all times, have regard to its obligations to the Fund and will endeavour to ensure that such conflicts are resolved fairly.

The Manager or any of its affiliates or any person connected with it may, directly or indirectly, invest in, or manage or advise other investment funds or accounts which invest in assets which may also be purchased or sold by the Fund. Neither the Manager, nor any of its affiliates, nor any person connected with it, are under any obligation to offer investment opportunities of which any of them becomes aware to the Fund or to account to the Fund in respect of (or share with the Fund or inform the Fund of) any such transaction or any benefit received by any of them from any such transaction, but will allocate such opportunities on an equitable basis between the Fund and other clients.

In determining the Net Asset Value, the Manager may rely on valuations provided or attributed to any asset or liability by the Manager. As the Asset safekeeping and Management Fee and the Performance Fee are determined by reference to the Net Asset Value, the Manager may have a conflict of interest in providing valuations.

The Manager has a conflict between its role as Manager in limiting expenses and the benefits it will receive from the different fees and compensation paid to it (which fees and compensation were established without arm's-length negotiation).

Each of the Manager, Fund Administrator, members of the Investment Committee and their affiliates currently manage or may manage in the future the trading or may provide other services for investment funds or accounts in addition to those of the Fund. In the event that any of the above named persons elect to undertake such activities and other business activities in the future, such persons and or their respective principals or affiliates may be subject to conflicting demands in respect of allocating management time, services and other functions.

The Manager, the Fund Administrator, the Depositary or the members of the Investment Committee and their affiliates may engage in such business activities provided that their performance in relation to the Fund is not impaired. The Manager, the Fund Administrator, the Depositary or the members of the Investment Committee and their respective principals and affiliates will endeavour to treat each investment pool and managed account fairly and not to favour one account or pool over another. Any such person will not be prevented from dealing with the Fund, as principal or as agent, provided that any such dealings are on terms no less favourable to the Fund than could reasonably have been obtained had the dealing been effected with an independent third party. Any such person may charge and retain a commission or fee in respect of any such dealing provided such fee or commission is not in excess of rates commonly payable in respect of such dealings.

In the event that the Manager, the Fund Administrator, the Depositary or the members of the Investment Committee and their principals or affiliates consider that a particular situation may result in any relevant person having a conflict between its obligations to the Fund and other interest must disclose any such interest financial, fiduciary or otherwise in any proposal, contract or other matter in respect of which the Fund will make a decision. The Manager, the Fund Administrator, the Depositary and the Members of the Investment Committee are expected to execute their duties in good faith and with a view to the best interests of the Fund and its Unit-holders.

In evaluating these potential conflicts of interest, an investor should be aware that the Manager has a responsibility to the Unit-holders to exercise good faith and fairness in all dealings affecting the Fund.

By acquiring Units in the Fund hereby offered, a Unit-holder will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of such actual and potential conflicts of interest and to have waived, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any claim with respect to the existence of any such conflicts.

Where the Fund invests in units of UCITS or collective investment undertakings, directly managed by, or whose management has been outsourced to, the Manager or another Company linked to the Manager by means of a common management or common control or qualifying holdings, the Manager or other company shall not charge subscription / redemption / repurchase fees for these investments of the Investment Compartment in the units of those UCITS or collective investment undertakings.

24. Soft commission arrangements

The Manager may effect transactions or arrange for the effecting of transactions through brokers or agents with whom they have soft commission agreements. The benefits provided under such agreements will assist the Manager in the provision of investment management services to the Fund and to other third parties. Specifically, the Manager may agree that a broker or agent shall be paid a commission in excess of the amount another broker or agent would have charged for effecting such transaction so long as, in the good faith judgement of the Manager the amount of the commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and other services provided or paid for by such broker or agent. Such services, which may take the form of research, analysis and advisory services, market price services, electronic trade confirmation systems, third party electronic dealing or quotation systems, and computer hardware associated with specialised computer software or research services, may be used by the Manager in connection with transactions in which the Fund will not participate. The Manager will only effect a transaction with any person pursuant to a soft commission agreement where such person has undertaken to provide best execution and/or be otherwise in compliance with the rules of CySEC and/or any other supervisory and regulatory authority.

25. Fund Dissolution

The dissolution of the Fund shall take place only for any reason described in the Rules of the Fund.

26. Risk Factors

General Comments

The list of risk factors set forth below does not purport to be an exhaustive explanation of the risks involved in investing in the Fund. Before making any investment decision prospective investors should read carefully the entire prospectus and consult with their professional advisors regarding the consequences of an investment in the Fund in light of their personal circumstances.

An investment in the Fund involves a relatively high degree of risk, including the risk of loss of a significant portion of the amount invested, as a result of both (i) the types of investments to be made by the Fund; and (ii) the structure and operations of the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective or that there will be any return of capital to Unit-holders.

Moderate risks are involved in investing in the various securities and financial instruments the Fund intends to purchase and sell. Prices may be influenced by, among other factors: changing demand and supply relationships; the domestic and foreign policies of Governments; political events, economic developments and changes in the regulatory framework for financial institutions. As a result of the nature of the Fund's investment activities, the Fund's performance may fluctuate from period to period. Accordingly, investors should understand that the performance in a particular period will not necessarily be indicative of performance in future periods.

The success of the investment strategies depends upon the ability of the Manager to interpret market data correctly and to predict market movements. Any factor which would make it more difficult to execute timely buy and sell orders, such as a significant lessening of liquidity in a particular market or investment would also be detrimental to profitability. Even though it is not currently the intention of the Manager to change the investment objective and policies, it is possible that the strategies used in the future may be different from those in use initially. No assurance can be given that the strategies used or to be used will be successful under all or any market conditions.

Before investing in the Fund, prospective investors should carefully consider the inherent risks. Investment in the Fund carries substantial risk. There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved and investment results may vary substantially over time. Investment in the Fund is not intended to be a complete investment programme for any investor. Prospective investors should carefully consider whether an investment in the Fund is suitable to them in light of their circumstances and financial resources. An investor in the Fund faces a variety of material risks, including those described below.

Risks of Investment

1. General Risks

Past performance is not a guide to future performance and Units, other than Units of liquidity Funds, if any, should be regarded as a medium to long-term investment. The value of investments and the income generated by them may go down as well as up and Unit-holders may not get back the amount originally invested. Where the currency of a Fund varies from the Investor's home currency, or where the currency of a Fund varies from the currencies of the markets in which the Fund invests, there is the prospect of additional loss (or the prospect of additional gain) to the Investor greater than the usual risks of investment.

2. Investment Objective Risk

Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macroeconomic environment, investment objectives may become more difficult or even impossible to achieve. There is no express or implied assurance as to the likelihood of achieving the investment objective for a Fund.

3. Regulatory Risk

The Fund is domiciled in Cyprus and Investors should note that all the regulatory protections provided by their local regulatory authorities may not apply. Additionally, the Fund may be registered in non-EU jurisdictions. As a result of such registrations the Funds may be subject, without any notice to the Unit-holders in the Funds concerned, to more restrictive regulatory regimes. In such cases the Fund will abide by these more restrictive requirements. This may prevent the Fund from making the fullest possible use of the investment limits.

4. Risks Associated with Investments in Debt Securities

The main risks connected to investments in debt securities include:

- interest rate risk (the risk that the value of the Fund's investments might decrease if interest rates increase);
- credit risk (the risk that the companies in whose securities the Fund is invested might fall into financial difficulties and might no longer be willing or able to honour their commitments towards their debt-holders);
- counter-party risk (the risk of a counterparty's bankruptcy leading it to default on payment).

5. Risks Associated with Currencies

The Fund may invest in securities denominated in a certain number of currencies other than the Fund's Base Currency. In the absence of proper hedging strategies, exchange rate fluctuations of foreign currencies affect the value of the securities held by the Fund.

6. Risks Associated with Positions in Exchange - Traded and OTC Derivatives

Subject to all applicable registration requirements, the Manager and the Manager may use hedging strategies, which cause the Fund's assets to be invested in exchange-traded and Over the Counter (OTC) futures, options and derivatives (including options, futures products, interest rate swaps and credit derivatives) in its investment policy for the purpose of hedging. These are volatile instruments generating certain specific risks and exposing investors to the risk of loss. OTC transactions are to be carried out with first-class banks or stockbrokers specialised in these types of transactions acting as counterparty.

7. Leverage Risk

Leverage is provided by the low initial margin deposits that are usually requested when taking a position in such instruments. As a result, a relatively small change in the price of a contract could give rise to significant gains or losses compared to the initial margin actually invested.

8. Risk of Imperfect Hedging

Furthermore, when used for the purpose of hedging, these instruments and the investments or market sectors being hedged could prove uncorrelated.

9. Liquidity Risk - OTC Financial Instruments

Transactions in over-the-counter derivatives, such as credit derivatives, may involve additional risk as there is no exchange market on which to close out an open position. It may be impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of a position or to assess the exposure to risk.

10. Opportunity Cost of Position Covering

In addition, when the Fund invests in a derivative instrument, it may be required to segregate cash and other high-grade liquid assets or certain portfolio securities to “cover” the position. Assets segregated or set aside generally may not be disposed of so long as the Fund maintains the positions requiring segregation or cover. Segregating assets could diminish the Fund’s return due to the opportunity losses of foregoing other potential investments with the segregated assets.

11. Risks Associated with OTC Transactions

Although the corresponding markets involving OTC transactions are not necessarily recognized as being more volatile than other futures markets, traders are less protected from defaults in their transactions in these markets because the contracts traded on them are not guaranteed by a clearing house.

12. Risks Associated with Credit Derivative (Credit Default Swaps) Transactions

The Fund may buy credit derivatives such as credit default swaps (CDS) to hedge part of the fund’s credit risk. The Fund will never sell protection through CDSs. A specific credit risk linked to the use of credit derivatives, such as credit default swaps, exists. The table below shows the situations in which the use of credit default swaps presents a risk:

Holding the underlying of the CDS	Aim of the Fund Manager’s use of CDS	Existence of credit risk
Yes	Sell protection	Yes, in the event of the downgrading of the issuer of the underlying security
Yes	Purchase protection	No
No	Sell protection	Yes, in the event of the downgrading of the issuer of the underlying security
No	Purchase protection	Yes, in the event of the upgrading of the issuer of the underlying security

13. Liquidity Risk

This risk basically stems from the degree of liquidity of the markets in which the transferable securities making up the portfolio are traded. Some of the securities in which the Fund is authorised to invest may be illiquid. Illiquid securities are taken to mean those that cannot be sold under normal conditions within a period of seven days at the price at which the Fund has valued them. These securities entail a risk that the Fund will not be able to sell them at the desired time. It is also possible that the price at which they are sold may be lower than the price at which the Fund had bought them. It may not always be possible for the Fund to execute a buy or sell order on exchanges at the desired price or to liquidate an open position due to market conditions including the operation of daily price fluctuation limits. If trading on an exchange is suspended or restricted, the Fund may not be able to execute trades or close out positions on terms which the Manager believes are desirable.

14. Emerging Markets Risks

Price fluctuations can be significant, and the operating and supervision conditions may deviate from the standards prevailing on the large international exchanges due to investments in emerging markets.

15. Risk Associated with Hedging Foreign-Currency Units

Units in currencies other than the euro are systematically hedged against currency risk. This hedging may not be correlated and may generate a performance differential between units in different currencies.

16. Risk of Capital Loss

The Fund is managed on a discretionary basis and does not guarantee or protect the capital invested. A capital loss occurs when a unit is sold at a lower price than that paid at the time of purchase.

17. Risk Associated with Discretionary Management

Discretionary management is based on the expected evolution of the different markets. There is a risk that the product might not be invested in the best-performing markets at all times.

18. Risks Related to the Fund

Reliance on the Manager

As the Fund will rely on the Manager in implementing its investment strategy, investors must rely on the judgment of the Manager. The Manager or its principals and affiliates are not required to devote substantially all their business time to the Fund's business. The Manager will act in the best interests of the Fund so far as practical when undertaking any investments for the Fund.

Conflicts of Interest

The investment activities of the Fund, its Manager and their respective affiliates may present certain conflicts of interest.

Limited Operating History

The Fund has only recently commenced investment operations and therefore has no operating or investment performance history (although Emergo Wealth Ltd. has experience in managing assets and extensive personal experience in substantially similar investment objectives).

Concentration of Investments

Although the Fund will endeavour to diversify its investment portfolios in accordance with the investment policies and restrictions set out herein, the Fund may hold a few, relatively large positions in certain securities and instruments in relation to the capital of the Fund. Consequently, a loss in any such position could result in significant losses to the Fund and a proportionately higher reduction in the Net Asset Value of the Fund than if the Fund's capital had been spread among a wider number of positions.

Limited Liquidity and Restrictions on Redemptions and Transfers of Units

To date, there is no market for the Units and no secondary market is expected to develop to provide Unit-holders holding Units with liquidity of investment except through redemption. A Unit-holder holding Units is restricted in his right to make a full or partial redemption from the Fund as specified in the addendum to the Prospectus of each sub-fund. However, such redemption may not be immediately possible as it may be suspended if the Manager believes that the Fund would be unable to satisfy the requested redemption without adversely affecting non-redeeming Unit-holders. The Gate also limits the right of a Unit-holder holding Units to withdraw from the Fund. No partial redemption will be permitted unless it is for at least €1,000. In addition, it may be relatively difficult for the Fund to dispose of investments rapidly at favourable prices in connection with redemption requests, adverse market developments or other factors.

Redemption Effects

Large redemptions of Units within a limited period of time could require the Fund to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, adversely affecting the value of both the Units being redeemed and the outstanding Units. In addition, regardless of the period of time over which redemptions occur, the resulting reduction in a Fund's Net Asset Value could make it more difficult for the Manager to generate profits or recover losses. Redemption proceeds paid by the Fund to a redeeming Unit-holder may be less than the Net Asset Value of such Units at the time a redemption request is made due to fluctuations in the Net Asset Value between the date of the request and the applicable Redemption/Valuation Day.

Dependence on the Manager

All allocation or investment decisions with respect to the Fund's assets will be made by the Manager and Unit-holders will not have the ability to take part in the day-to-day management or investment operations of the Fund. As a result, the success of the Fund will depend largely upon the abilities of the Manager, and there can be no assurance that the Manager will remain willing or able to provide advice to and trade on behalf of the Fund or that their trading will be profitable in the future. If the Fund were to lose the services of the Manager, the Fund may suffer adversely and might have to be liquidated.

Effect of Performance Fees

The Manager could receive a performance fee from the Fund or any of the sub-funds based on a percentage of any net realised and unrealised profits. Performance fees may create an incentive for the Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such incentive compensation arrangements.

Risks of Leverage

The Fund may borrow funds and employ financial instruments and techniques with an embedded leverage effect. The borrowing of funds and use of leverage by the Fund will magnify increases or decreases in the Fund's Net Asset Value. No assurance may be given that secured or unsecured debt financing will be available on terms that the Manager considers acceptable, nor that the use of leveraged financial instruments and techniques will not generate losses in excess of the amount invested or committed.

Possible Indemnification Obligations

The Fund has agreed, or may agree, to indemnify the the Manager, the Depositary, the Investment Committee, and banks, brokers and dealers under its Rules and various agreements entered into with such persons against certain liabilities they or their respective directors, officers, affiliates or agents may incur in connection with their relationship with the Fund.

Institutional Risk

All assets of the Fund will be held under the custody or supervision of the Depositary. The Depositary is authorised to use sub-depositaries and nominees. The institutions, including brokerage firms and banks, with which the Fund (directly or indirectly) does business, or to which portfolio securities have been entrusted for custodial purposes, may encounter financial difficulties that impair the operational capabilities or the capital position of the Fund. The Fund intends to limit its securities transactions to well-capitalised and established banks and brokerage firms in an effort to mitigate such risks.

Legal Restrictions on Portfolio Investments

The Fund or its direct and indirect portfolio investments may be subject to regulations (including tax regulations) in certain countries. Such legal requirements applicable to the Fund and the Manager, may force the Fund to modify or limit, for other than investment reasons, the amount of assets invested in a particular security or financial instrument. Such actions may affect the performance of the Fund. In addition, possible changes to the laws and regulations governing permissible activities of the Fund, the Manager and their affiliates could restrict or prevent the Fund or the Manager from continuing to pursue the Fund's investment objectives or operate in the manner currently contemplated.

Possible Adverse Tax Consequences

No assurance may be given that the manner in which the Fund will be managed and operated, or that the composition of its direct and indirect portfolio investments, will be tax efficient for any particular Unit-holder or group of Unit-holders. The Fund's books and records could be audited by the tax authorities of countries where a portion of its direct and indirect portfolio investments are made or where a particular Unit-holder or group of Unit-holders reside. Any such audits could subject the Fund to tax, interest and penalties, as well as incremental accounting and legal expenses. Should the Fund be required to incur additional taxes or expenses as a result of the capital contributions made by any Unit-holder, or become subject to any record-keeping or reporting obligations as a result of permitting any person to remain or be admitted as a Unit-holder of the Fund, the Fund will seek reimbursement of the costs of such taxes, expenses or obligations from such person. The Manager will, at their discretion, request the compulsory redemption of such Unit-holders.

Risks of Special Techniques Used by the Manager

The Fund may invest using special investment techniques that may subject the Fund's investments to certain risks. The Fund may also invest in derivative instruments for hedging or partial hedging purposes. The Fund, in any event, is not designed to correlate to the broad bond market and should be viewed as an alternative to instead of a substitute for other fixed income investments.

Assets of the Fund Held by Depositories

The Fund may enter into derivative transactions with approved counterparties in the course of which it may be necessary to appoint such counterparties as depositories over some portion of its assets. Unless otherwise agreed with the Depository in most cases, all cash, investments and other assets so held by the Depository will be subject to a security interest in favour of the Depository. To the extent such cash, investments and other assets are so held, they will be held as collateral. Any collateral may be used by the Depository for its own account or for that of any other customer, in which event the Fund will have a right against the depository for the return of assets equivalent to the collateral so used. To the extent so used, any such collateral will not be segregated from other assets belonging to the depository and may be available to creditors of the depository in the event of its insolvency, in relation to which the Fund will rank as an unsecured creditor of the depository and may not be able to recover such assets in full. Where, due to the nature of the law or market practice of jurisdictions where the depository operates, such cash, investments and other assets may be registered in the name of the depository and will not be segregated from the depository's own investments, in the event of the depository's default may not be as well protected. This means, amongst other things, that the Fund's cash, investments and other assets will not be segregated from the depository's own cash, investments and other assets and may be at risk in the event of the depository's insolvency.

19. Market-Related Risks

General Economic Conditions

The success of any investment activity is affected by general economic conditions, which may affect the liquidity of the markets for fixed income securities. Certain market conditions, including unexpected volatility or reduced liquidity in the market in which the Fund directly or indirectly holds positions, could impair the Fund's ability to achieve its objectives and/or cause it to incur losses.

Market Risks

The success of a significant portion of the Fund's investment program will depend, to a great extent, upon correctly assessing the future price movements of fixed income and other financial instruments. There can be no assurance that the Manager will be able to accurately predict these price movements. Therefore, there is risk that the value of the Fund's investments might decrease following general movements in the financial markets.

Volatility Risk

The Fund will be investing for the most part, in securities, which may involve a relatively high degree of risk. Prices are volatile and market movements are difficult to predict.

Foreign Currency Exchange Transactions Risks

The Fund may buy and sell securities and receive interest in a number of foreign currencies and thus the Fund may enter from time to time into foreign currency exchange transactions on a spot (i.e. cash) basis or enter into foreign currency exchange forward contracts. Neither spot transactions nor forward currency exchange contracts eliminate fluctuations in the prices of a Fund's portfolio securities or in foreign exchange rates, or prevent loss if the prices of these securities should decline. Although these transactions are intended to minimise the risk of loss due to a decline in the value of the hedged currencies, at the same time they limit any potential gain that might be realised should the value of the hedged currency increase. The precise matching of the forward contract amounts and the value of the portfolio securities involved will not generally be possible because the future value of such securities will change as a consequence of market movements in the value of such securities between the date on which the forward contract is entered into and the date on which it matures. Therefore, no assurance may be given that any such currency hedging techniques will be successful.

Suspension of Trading

Each securities exchange has the right to suspend or limit trading in all securities which it lists. Such a suspension would render it impossible for the Fund to liquidate positions and, accordingly, expose the Fund to losses and delays in its ability to redeem Units.

Taxation Risks

Investment in the Fund may entail various tax consequences for various investors depending on each investor's particular circumstances. Investors are strongly advised to consult regularly with their tax advisors with respect to the consequences of purchasing and possessing Units in the Fund. The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete explanation of the risks involved in investing in the Fund. Potential investors should read this entire Prospectus before determining whether to invest in the Fund and consult with their own financial and tax advisers. Potential investors should also be aware that, if they decide to purchase Units, they will have no role in the management of the Fund and will be required to rely on the expertise of the Manager in dealing with the foregoing (and other) risks on a day-to-day basis. In the event of the failure of the Fund, the investors are not protected by any statutory or other compensation scheme or arrangement.

27. Money Laundering Precaution Procedures

The Fund, the Manager and the Fund Administrator shall at all times abide by the Prevention and Suppression of Money Laundering Activities Law of 2007 (Law No. 188(I)/2007) as this may, from time to time be amended, replaced, expanded or re-enacted and any guidance notes or regulations issued pursuant to Law No. 188(I)/2007 by the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission and any regulations and/or guidance or directives issued by a supervisory authority that may be applicable to the Fund. Any applicants for subscription for Units must comply with the measures adopted by the Fund for the prevention of money laundering. Measures aimed towards the prevention of money laundering require the verification by Emergo Wealth Ltd. of the identity of each applicant for subscription for up to the ultimate beneficial owner and the source of funds.

As a general guideline the following documents are required to be produced:

- a. In event that the applicant is an individual applying individually or jointly (for joint applicants please provide all relevant documents for each individual):
 - i. Proof of Identity - A certified copy of the passport or Identity Card;
 - ii. Proof of residential address - A recent utility bill or bank statement or other proof of permanent residential address (dated in last three months).
- b. In event that the applicant is a legal/corporate entity the following documents are required:
 - i. A certified copy of the Prospectus and Rules and/or any document defining the Rules of the Fund;
 - ii. A certified copy of the certificate of establishment;
 - iii. A certified copy of the certificate of registered office;
 - iv. A certified copy of a certificate indicating the directors or other acceptable list of directors;

 - vii. Identification, as described above for individual applicants, for individuals who are beneficial owners of corporate Unit-holders holding 10% or more of the share capital.

The details given above are by way of example only and Emergo Wealth Ltd. may request such other information and documentation as it considers is necessary to verify the identity of an applicant. In the event of delay or failure by the applicant to produce any information required for verification purposes, the Fund, Emergo Wealth Ltd. or any person acting on its behalf, may refuse to accept the application and the consideration for subscription or may refuse to process a redemption request until proper information has been provided.

The Fund or any person acting on its behalf, also reserves the right to refuse to make any redemption payment or other distribution to a Unit-holder holding Units if there is a suspicion or the Fund is advised that the payment of any redemption or other distribution to such Unit-holder might result in a breach or violation of any applicable prevention of money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund or any person acting on its behalf with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction. Investors should note specifically that where redemption proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the applicant, the Fund reserves the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the redemption proceeds will be paid. The redemption proceeds will not be paid to a third party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information. Each applicant for Units acknowledges that the Fund or any person acting on its behalf shall be held harmless against any loss arising as a result of a failure to process his application for subscription for Units or redemption request if such information and documentation as has been requested has not been provided by the applicant.

28. Taxation

The Fund shall be resident of the Republic of Cyprus for taxation purposes and shall be taxed accordingly. The taxation of capital gains of the holder of Units shall be subject to the laws and practices of the Republic of Cyprus as well as the laws and practices applicable in the jurisdiction where the investor is subject to tax. It is the responsibility of any person interested in investing in Units to obtain information and advice on the tax consequences of such investment in the Fund, the operations of the Fund as well as any foreign exchange or other fiscal restrictions which might be relevant to their particular circumstances. Further, prospective investors are advised to consult their professional advisors as regards any taxation aspects and consequences applicable to the subscription, the holding and the redemption of Units under the laws of the jurisdiction where they are subject to taxation. The general observations on taxation set-out below are based on advice received regarding the law and practice at the date of the Prospectus.

Corporate Tax

Corporate tax for Cyprus resident companies is currently imposed at the rate of twelve and a half percent (12.5%) for each year of assessment upon the taxable income derived from sources both within and outside Cyprus. In arriving at the taxable income, deductions on such income and exemptions must be taken into account. All relevant expenses for the production of that income are deductible expenses whereas dividends, capital gains or profit from the sale of securities (including Units and units) constitute tax exempt income. Expenses that directly or indirectly relate to tax exempt income are not tax deductible. Any trading losses that may arise in a Cyprus Fund can be set off against future profits for a period of five years.

Capital Gains

With the exception of gains from the disposal of immovable property situated in Cyprus including gains from the disposal of Units in companies which hold such immovable property in Cyprus will incur a capital gains tax at the rate of 20%, other capital gains are not subject to tax under Cyprus Income Tax laws. Under Capital Gains tax laws, tax is imposed only on profits derived from the disposition of either immovable property situated in Cyprus or Units in companies owning immovable property in Cyprus (with the exception of Units in listed companies) at the flat rate of twenty percent (20%). Profits realized by the disposal of securities (including Units and units) are also tax exempt.

Dividend Income

Dividends received by a Fund resident in Cyprus from a foreign Fund are exempt from income tax. Dividends are also exempt from the levy of the Special Defense Contribution tax if the dividend paying Fund derives fifty percent (50%) or more of its income directly or indirectly from activities which lead to active trading income ("active versus passive test") or the foreign tax burden on the profits to be distributed as a dividend is not substantially lower than the Cypriot corporate income tax rate (i.e. a rate of at least six point twenty five percent (6.25%)) on the level of the dividend paying Fund ("effective tax test"). If both of the above conditions are not satisfied, dividends will be subject to Special Defense Contribution tax in Cyprus at a rate of twenty percent (20%).

Interest Income

Interest income accruing or arising will be considered to be closely connected to the ordinary activities of the Fund. Under the legislation, interest income derived by a collective investment scheme is considered to be "active" interest income. Active interest income will be taxed as trading income under the corporation tax at twelve and a half percent (12.5%) with any expenses incurred in its production allowed as a tax deduction.

Definition of "Securities"

According to the Cyprus Income Tax Law, profits from the sale of securities are exempt from taxation in Cyprus. The term "Securities" includes among others Units in companies, bonds, debentures, founder's Units and other securities of companies or other legal persons, incorporated under the Laws of Cyprus or abroad and options thereon, as well as short positions on titles, futures, forwards, swaps, depositary receipts on titles, rights of claim on bonds and debentures, repurchase agreements on titles, s in companies and units in open-end or closed-end collective investment schemes.

Deemed Dividend Distribution Rules

In relation to dividend distributions from Cypriot funds to Cypriot tax resident Unit-holders, it should be noted that any profits attributable to Unit-holders (companies or individuals) who are Cyprus tax residents are subject to the deemed dividend distribution rules. These rules provide that if a Fund, which does not distribute at least 70 per cent of its accounting profits after tax, as defined by the relevant law, within two years after the end of the tax year to which the profits relate, will be deemed to have distributed as a dividend 70 per cent of such profits. Special Defense Contribution tax at a rate of three (3) per cent will be imposed at the end of the two years on the amount deemed to be distributed to tax residents of Cyprus. The deemed dividend distribution provisions do not apply to profits attributable to non-Cyprus tax resident Unit-holders.

Liquidation

On liquidation of the fund, the proceeds will be subject to Special Defense Contribution tax at three percent (3%) for the proportion attributable to Cyprus tax-resident Unit-holders. The proportion attributable to the non-resident Unit-holders will be exempt from any tax.

Redemption of Units

Redemptions of units in a collective investment scheme do not constitute deemed dividend distribution for the purposes of the Special Contribution for the Defense of the Republic Law (that is imposed only on Cyprus tax residents). Therefore, redemption of units in the Fund will not trigger any tax liability in the hands of the unit holder.

29. Winding Up

The Fund may be wound up following a relevant decision of Emergo Wealth Ltd. subject to the AIF Law provisions. Such decision shall be made at the absolute discretion of Emergo Wealth Ltd. The dissolution of the Fund, is followed by its liquidation, which ends up to the distribution of its assets, under the responsibility of its liquidator. Emergo Wealth Ltd. is appointed as liquidator, unless the dissolution is due to dissolution, resignation, liquidation or revocation of authorisation of Emergo Wealth Ltd. Fund, in this case the liquidator is appointed by the Depositary. Where the dissolution of the Fund is due to dissolution, resignation, liquidation or revocation of authorisation of the Depositary of the Fund, the liquidator is appointed by CySEC by its decision. In case the liquidator does not exercise its duties diligently, CySEC may appoint a replacement of the liquidator upon request of any person that has a legitimate interest therein. It is provided that the liquidator shall not delegate its duties regarding liquidation to a third party.

In case of liquidation of the Fund, the NAV for each sub-fund is calculated and the proceeds will be distributed to the Unit-holders of each sub-fund accordingly on a pro-rata basis.

30. Material Contracts

The following contracts, not being contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business, have been entered into by the Fund and are or may be material:

The Administrator shall have the right, if it so wishes, to terminate this Agreement by notice to the Fund, with immediate effect in the event that: breach of any of the obligations of the Fund under this Agreement; commencement of any process or procedure for the enforcement of any security rights or other claims against the Fund; commencement of any insolvency, winding up or other judicial proceedings against the Fund; prevention of the Administrator to perform and fulfill its obligations under this Agreement in virtue of any change in the laws of any relevant jurisdiction; the change of any circumstances resulting in material increases in the cost of the Administrator to perform its undertakings hereunder; in case any of the warranties or undertakings, information or insurances given to the Administrator by the Fund, whether in this Agreement or otherwise, is found or proved to be incorrect, misleading or insufficient; in case the Fees or any other monies at any time due by the Fund under this Agreement are not fully paid and discharged within the period of time specified for payment thereof in the relevant invoice. In the event of termination of this Agreement for any of the reasons set in this paragraph, the Administrator shall not be obliged to refund any Fees or other charges received in respect of any unexpired period.

31. Disclosures to investors

I. Procedures by which the Fund may change its investment strategy or investment policy or both.

The Fund may temporarily depart from its investment policy in response to the Manager's perception of extraordinary market, political or similar conditions. During these periods and for as long as the Manager deems it necessary, a Fund may increase its holdings of cash and cash equivalents. In doing so, the Fund may succeed in avoiding losses, but may otherwise fail to achieve its investment objective.

II. Legal description of the contractual relationship entered into for the purpose of investment

The agreement between Unit-holders and the Company for the acquisition of units under the Placing Programme is governed by Cyprus law and, by purchasing units, Unit-holders agree that the courts of Cyprus have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes. All communications in connection with the purchase of Units will be in English.

III. Professional liability risk

The Fund is managed by Emergo Wealth Ltd, a Cyprus Investment Firm, registered with the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission under the provisions of the applicable legislation (LAW 144 (I) of 2007), (License Number 232/14). Emergo Wealth Ltd. maintains the required levels of own funds and has a capital ratio within the limits required in order to manage an Alternative Investment Fund.

In order to cover potential professional liability risks resulting from activities the Manager may carry out pursuant to the AIFM Law, the following shall apply:

- a. The Manager shall not be under any liability for any failure to perform any of their obligations hereunder due to any cause whatsoever of any nature or kind beyond their reasonable control.
- b. The Manager, its Affiliates, unit-holders, officers, directors, employees, agents and subcontractors (hereinafter the "Indemnified Parties") shall be under no liability to the Fund for any loss, damage, delay or expense of whatsoever nature and howsoever arising in the course of performance of the services unless the same results from the fraud, bad faith, willful misfeasance, reckless disregard or negligence on the part of the Manager or its Affiliates, officers, directors, employees agents and subcontractors employed by it in the performance or non-performance of its obligations and duties as described in this prospectus.
